Growing Up With Audrey Hepburn: Text, Audience, Resonance Rachel Moseley

The first full length academic study of Hepburn's star persona and films featuring research into the experience of British women who have admired her in the 1950s, 1960s and the 1990s. Examines the historical specificity of discourses of femininity circulating around Hepburn and her female fans, suggesting that the flexibility of Hepburn's image has contributed to her enduring appeal. Makes a significant contribution to the growing field of star studies. Argues that class and gender are significant factors in the relationship between stars and audiences.
